

ESTABLISHED JAN. 21, 1837.

JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, NOV. 1, 1884.

PRICE $2 A YEAR.

Don't fail to go out and vote the Democratic ticket next Tuesday.

The Legislature meets the 11th day of next month.

Considerable improvement has been made in that part of town near the depot by Mr. Woodruff and others.

Mr. J. L. Mattison has bought the residence of Maj. Stone, known as the Foster place. It is a most desirable place of residence.

The article from the Hayneville-Examiner on the prominent members of the next lower House of the Legislature, is understood to be from the pen of Senator Brewer, formerly Auditor of this State.

Those candidates who have failed to settle up to date are affectionately invited to do so at once. We would dislike to have to put out a claim for collection against any man who so lately sought the support of the people for office. It would look bad for it to get out that any gentleman of the team had failed to settle up his election expenses.

This is a hard year, but every man can pay the small amount of his subscription, and we want all who are indebted to us to come up and pay. We pay cash for all that enters into making a paper for our readers each week, and we need their subscriptions to do this with. Don't neglect this thing because it is a small debt. Many of these small debts make a large sum to us. Don't wait to see us. Send the money along by mail. It will reach us safely.

The long drouth in this section has at last been broken by rains. There has been no suffering for water in this section, though some of the weaker streams have dried up. Take it all in all, this is one of the most favored spots in the South, both as to climate, soil and mineral wealth. While the drouth has literally ruined some parts of the country, it has done no great damage in this section, except to cut short the late corn crop and cause the cotton to shed more than usual.

The Last Desperate Move.

The Radicals have abandoned all hope of carrying New York and are concentrating their forces in Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey. They hope to carry two of these States by the infamous tactics adopted in Ohio. The contest from present appearances, will be extremely close and bitter in Indiana. Blaine has abandoned all talk of the tariff and is trying to stir up the passions of the people of the North by the most malignant misrepresentations of the people of the South. It is the last desperate resort of a desperate man, and, if he wins, he will do it by this appeal to sectional feeling. How any Southern man can support him, in the face of his infamous war upon the people of the South, we cannot conceive.

Ex Gov. Thos. H. Watts has written a letter to the Montgomery Advertiser, in which he argues that the Legislature cannot constitutionally hold longer than fifty days, Sundays included, and it looks as if his argument was unanswerable. Heretofore the Legislature has construed the clause in the Constitution limiting the session, to mean fifty working days, and the usual length of the session has consequently been about sixty days, including Sundays and legal holidays and a day of adjournment near the end of the session to allow the Clerks to catch up. It would be well for the Legislature to examine this question thoroughly at the beginning of the session and settle it at once. With a ten days shorter session than has been under the present Constitution, a great deal of legislation will be cut off, but better this than to have important acts passed on the heels of the session declared unconstitutional by reason of having been passed after the expiration of the constitutional session.

THE ELECTION.

Next Tuesday will tell whether the Radical party is to continue its reign of corruption, or whether the Democratic party will come into power to purify the Government. The contest looks like it will be a close one, but we believe the victory will be with the Democrats. Never since 1860 has there been so exciting a contest at the North, and accounts of bloodshed at the polls may be looked for at more places than one. In the South the feeling is practically all one way, and we have had but little, if any excitement. Let every Democrat in Calhoun county turn out and plant his vote for Cleveland and Hendricks and Gen. Forney, both for the purpose of making a certain Democratic triumph in the District and State, and, as we have before said, for the gratification that will follow, if Cleveland is elected, that his vote contributed to the grand result.

As we have said, we hope for a Democratic victory and we believe it will be won; but if it should not be, Democrats should not grow discouraged and fly the party. We need the party, compact and well organized, both in our State and county, to resist Radical domination with all that the term implies. The material prosperity of, and the purity of social life in, Alabama demand the continuance of the Democratic party in power, and this can only be maintained by close organization.

The National Democratic Executive Committee has issued a stirring address, in which they set forth the outrages perpetrated by U. S. Deputy Marshals in Ohio, and the intention of the Republican party to repeat like outrages in Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut next Tuesday. The Committee define the duties of these Deputy Marshals under the law and show that they have no power to arrest voters going to the polls, and advise Democrats to forcibly resist and such attempts of these tools of a corrupt political party. The Committee further say that the Republicans have given up New York and will concentrate all their energies on the three States named; but they confidently predict for the Democratic party a glorious victory. Meantime let us of Calhoun do our duty by voting, so that it may be said Cleveland and Hendricks are not only carried a majority of the electoral votes of the States, but a popular majority of the voters in the whole United States. Go to the polls.

Gov. Cleveland in Newark, N. J.

Gov. Cleveland visited Newark, New Jersey, Monday, and was received by the people of that city with the most flattering ovation that has been tendered any candidate since the campaign began. Newark is Gov. Cleveland's birthplace, and this fact alone induced him to go out of the State of New York to attend the meeting. He made a most excellent speech, in which he placed himself on good ground as respects the tariff. He declared unequivocally that he was not in favor of laying any heavier import tax than was absolutely essential to meet the expenses of the Government economically administered. He is no protectionist for the sake of protection, but would protect American labor and American capital invested in manufactures, from foreign competition, so far as such an honest tariff would go. He is not in favor of robbing the great mass of the people, under guise of a high tariff, for the purpose of enriching further the manufacturers of the country. He is in short what the penny-liners of the Alabama high protective tariff papers would call a "free trader." Yet he is none the less the friend of the working man, whether in the foundry or the field.

Notice has been given through the Hot Blood, by some party or parties unknown, that the next Legislature will be asked to pass the court house removal bill, of which so much has said in this county.

Radical Devilry.

It comes both from Nashville and Montgomery, from the most trust-worthy sources, that the Radicals are shipping arms in large quantities into Louisiana to the negroes, and that they will spare no pains to stir up bloodshed in that State on election day. Both Blaine and Logan have more than once hinted that the country ought not to suffer the Democratic party, backed by the solid South, to take control of the government; and we believe that the shipping of arms to Louisiana is a part of a well conceived plot to stir up bloodshed in that State between the races, and then, if the electoral vote of Louisiana will determine the result one way or the other, to resist its count, on the ground that the Democrats carried the State by force, and for this reason attempt to hold possession of the government in face of the popular will. This the Democratic party will never submit to, and the question will then resolve itself into one of which party has the most grit. Let us hope that a sufficiency of Northern States will go for Cleveland to avoid the possibility of any dispute as to who is elected.

Form of the Ticket.

If it so happens that any box in this county is without tickets on the day of election, the following, which is the correct Democratic presidential and congressional ticket, can be written on unruled white paper either with pen or pencil. The paper should not be more than 21 or less than 2 inches wide, and not less than five nor more than ten inches long.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS, SEVENTH DISTRICT: William H. Forney.

We direct attention to the large and attractive double column advertisement of A. Lesser & Co. of Anniston. These gentlemen contemplate a change in their business and will sell out at actual cost. From our dealings with these gentlemen we have been led to believe them entirely trustworthy and when they say they will sell at cost we believe they mean it. Doubtless good bargains can be had of them. Don't fail to go in and price their goods when you go to Anniston.

Mr. Handaway, civil engineer of the Jacksonville and Gadsden Railroad, broke dirt Tuesday, with a force of hands, on the Mark Driskill place, two miles west of Jacksonville. He commences at this point because he says the work over the lowland there can be done in the present state of the weather at about half the cost of what same would be after the beginning of the rainy season.

The Tariff and the Demagogues.

Chicago Times.

The tariff, which is a curse to the people, is a blessing to the demagogues who promise to maintain it. The monopolists, whom it benefits, have contributed large sums to secure Blaine's election. The enormous corruption fund of the Republican party is drawn largely from the profits of a high tariff. Besides robbing the masses for the benefit of a few, the system of spoliation has become the mightiest instrument for the debasement of politics. Promising to perpetrate high tariff taxes, the party of monopoly can always obtain money from protection farmers to corrupt voters and purchase elections. "Protection to home industry" has thus become another name for gigantic political corruption. If the Republican party should get another lease of power, no mortal can tell how long the American people would be at the mercy of the mercenary and despotic tariff lords that party has created.

Between swing and swagger there is a good deal of fourth century nineteenth century politics.

A Distinguished Educator on Normal Schools.

Prof. E. Y. McMorris, one of the most distinguished teachers in the State, and who has been most prominently mentioned for State Superintendent of Education, in discussing the Blair educational bill, thus incidentally alludes to Normal Schools and their uses. As he says, if our State educational system ever amounts to anything worth speaking of, it will be through the instrumentality of these schools in supplying the country with trained teachers. The next Legislature should establish two or three more at different points in the State. The three white Normal schools now in existence cannot turn out teachers fast enough to supply the demand. At Florence, where the Normal School has been longest in existence in this State, the pupils are always engaged before graduation, and the demand is not near supplied. When the schools at Jacksonville and Livingston have been sufficiently long established to begin to turn out graduates, the situation will be somewhat better, but even all three institutions cannot supply the demand, when the educational appropriation becomes large enough to justify schools in every neighborhood in the State, as would be the case under the Blair educational bill. Prof. McMorris says: "We think there are at least three things essential to the successful conduct of popular education, viz: good teachers, enough money, and a good system. If our State Superintendents and other officials of high authority on the school question are to be believed, our State possesses a very scant supply of all three of these essentials. If Congress makes the appropriation, one difficulty will be removed. If the State will thus establish a system of education worthy of its greatness in other respects and worthy of the age in which we live, another obstacle will be out of the way. Still, the greatest difficulty of all will be to find a sufficient number of 'competent and efficient teachers' to take charge of all these schools. Admitting that we have, unimpaired, funds to command the services of a first class teacher in every school in the State, and that the laws have been so framed, and the officials so vigilant and exacting as to render it impossible for any incompetent and inefficient teacher to secure a position in our public schools, the question comes up: Where will we get teachers to carry on our schools? We will not be able to get them from Georgia, South Carolina, nor indeed from any Southern State, for each of these States will be in exactly the same condition as ourselves—needing the services of more good teachers than they can find within their borders. Neither is it likely that we could recruit from the Eastern or Western States, as these, too, would all be on educational stretch. Then it appears inevitable to us that, however large the appropriation may be, it will be impossible to place our schools under the control of any other teachers than those now engaged in the State; and without improvement in our corps of teachers, there can possibly be no advancement made in the work of educating our people. A teacher who now teaches a free school for $25 per month, or the public fund will be no more efficient when you pay him $50."

The friends of this bill appear to have understood our great need of good teachers, and have set apart a large portion of the appropriation for the establishment and support of Normal schools for the training of teachers. But it will take a Normal student three or four years to graduate, and as the period of this appropriation extends over only 7 years, that period will be half expired before the young Normal student can begin his work. Even then he is a tyro in the cause and lacks experience.

But even the young, inexperienced Normal would be a "big improvement" on many old fossils now endeavoring to teach the "young ideas" in Alabama how to teach. Just as we get a line corps of Normal graduates somewhat experienced, our money gives out. What then?

Mr. Blaine made a display of his sectionalism and demagoguism in his speech at Fort Wayne, Ind., in which he said that if the Democrats elected the President the South would contribute three-fourths of the votes and would have three-fourths of the political power of the Government. Mr. Blaine proposed, instead of this, that the North shall elect him, giving him all its votes, and shall have all the political power.

The Romance of Life.

It is easier for the casual observer, if he is a newspaper reader, to find more pure, unadulterated romance, in the occurring events of the day, than all the novels ever published. To satisfy our readers of the truth of this statement, we ask them to read the following articles which contain sufficient plot and incident for a half dozen stories. We will begin with the woman who

MARRIED TO PLEASE HER PARENTS.

A young lady, beautiful in person and attractive in manner, who resided in the immediate vicinity of Boston, was sought in marriage some years ago by two men. One of these was poor, and a mechanic; the other was rich, and not a mechanic. The woman loved the former; the family of the woman liked the latter. As is generally the case the woman married to please her friends. Having thus "sold herself" she sought to have been miserable, but she was not. Her husband's unmarked love subdued her heart, and his gold smoothed her rough places in the human path. For a time, feeling that this couple were too happy, frowned, and the man's riches took wings and used them in flight. Thereafter the husband wound up his business, put his wife and children, of whom there were two, at a comfortable boarding house, and then departed for California, in search of money. Some letters and some remittances arrived from him at first, but then nothing came, and there was a blank for several years. The wife thought herself deserted. The family, whose good opinion of the husband had not lately been so often published as formerly, told her that it was clearly a case for a divorce. When she had become accustomed to the sound of this unpleasant word, the disconsolate wife was thrown into the society of the mechanic's wife, now poor, and still unmarried. The memory of her early, real love came upon her, and she believed with a secret joy that he had remained single for her sake. This thought nourished her affection, and at last she obtained a divorce from her husband, who had been married, and now married beyond the time allowed by the statute. This accomplished, there was no barrier between her and the man of her youth. She informed him that she was his forever, and he should obey, in doing her husband. Her feelings came, since his rejection by her and her marriage to another, the man of the hewer of wood had drowned his passions for her in the waves of time, and that at the time of her husband's death he no longer felt that she was his forever, and he should turn up but her husband, who made his appearance in the form of a letter, announcing that he had accumulated a dazzling pile of wealth, that he was on his way home, and that she was to meet him in New York. The letter also told her that he had neglected to write to him for years, and that he was now in the house of Milton Humes of Madison, who comes equipped with rare attainments. Summer Lee, of Dallas, is a man of superior talent, who served most capably as a reporter of the Supreme court for some years, and was one of the framers of our present voluminous State Constitution while S. W. John, one of his colleagues, elected to a second term, not only has capacity but the courage of his convictions. Henry Brown, of Tuscaloosa is on his arrival, and told him the experience and general manner of his life.

The defendant, could tell R. The husband, however, grew, locked the marriage knot, and the wife, coming to her senses, remembered Calhoun to his heart. A clergyman was summoned, a marriage was performed, and a new chapter in her life history was opened.

LOVE TRIUMPHANT.

Some thirty years ago there lived in the city of London an opulent Jewish banker of the name of R. As rich men usually have, the subject of the present sketch had a lovely daughter rejoicing in the scriptural name of Sarah. As Sarah reached the age of womanhood, her beauty, coupled with her father's wealth, drew to her feet many suitors; only one, however, could secure the prize, and that one was H. the son of a rich Polish nobleman. But when all the course of this love run smooth, H. and his father became mixed up in one of the many revolutions that have occurred in Poland, their estates were confiscated, and they were obliged to flee for their lives. With the flight of H.'s riches, R. discovered that his intended son-in-law would not do, and told the young people the lovers separated with vows of eternal constancy. H. emigrated to this country and Sarah remained ing in London. But, as the copy-book says: "Out of sight, out of my mind," and so in this case. The sea had rolled between the lovers for about a year, when a rich suitor paid his addresses to Sarah, who accepted and married him. He was almost distracted when he heard the news, but re-flection came to his aid, and he consoled himself by also marrying. Years passed on; the husband of Sarah died last year, leaving her a widow, penniless, and with eleven children. In the meantime, the wife of H. had died, leaving him eight children. When H. heard of the abject condition of his first love, all his old affection returned. He pictured his Sarah poor, and with a large family dependent upon her, which resulted in his sending for her and her children. After mutual reiterations of unchanged affection, the marriage day was fixed, and on Sunday last the parties were married by a Jewish minister. They numbered one hundred and four years between them—the lady being fifty years of age, with traces of her former great beauty existing, and the husband being fifty-four years old. The newly married couple have a grown up family of nineteen olive branches to twine around their domestic hearthstone.

Our New Law-Makers.

Hayneville-Examiner.

The Legislature of our State just elected will contain several men of experience and talent in both houses; but is not an extraordinary body. The counties should require their ablest men to serve in the councils of the State, and in a few cases this has been done the present year.

In the lower house, which needs the better talent and experience, about a dozen members of the last legislature get back. These furnish the ablest members in the person of Augustus A. Coleman, a circuit court judge from 1858 to 1865, and colonel of the 34th Alabama regiment, a lawyer who has few equals in the State. DeKalb sends her ablest and most distinguished citizen, Wm. J. Haralson, who was a circuit court judge from 1862 to 1874, a circuit solicitor thirty years ago, and that county will find that she has honored herself as Hale has done. Tuscaloosa, after keeping Andrew C. Hargrove in the senate from 1879 to 1884, now puts him in the House where he has served as a member of constitutional convention in 1875; and Tuscaloosa maintains her proud roll of legislators. Marengo for the third time in succession delegates one of the most useful, sensible and practical men in the state in the person of Mims Walker, who has much of the force of his uncle, the late Robert Jemison, of Tuscaloosa. Montgomery puts a good foot forward when she sends so able a lawyer as Wm. A. Guter, and his colleague Thos. G. Jones is a man of superior talent, who served most capably as a reporter of the Supreme court for some years, and was one of the framers of our present voluminous State Constitution while S. W. John, one of his colleagues, elected to a second term, not only has capacity but the courage of his convictions. and he will honor old Greene. And this leads us to speak of the good turn St. Clair has done in sending James T. Greene the efficient chief clerk in the educational office for four years, and who knows all about that business and more besides. J. A. Bilbro, of Macon; Aristotle A. Wiley, of Montgomery; Z. M. P. Inge, of Mobile; T. J. Carlisle and Frank Baltzell, of Pike; J. A. Curry, of Talladega; J. P. White, of Dallas; J. N. Suttle, of Bibb, and Elkanah Burson of Wilcox, and George Erwin, of Hale are new men and will be felt by varied but strong qualities. Hiram Hawkins, Clem. C. Shorter, and James Lang have all been re-elected by Barbour, John D. Burnett, by Conecuh; Isaac Grant, by Clarke; J. W. Bowling, by Dale; E. D. Willett, Jr., by Pickens; Chambers McDaddy, by Jefferson; while Montgomery gives back W. H. Lawson, who was there in 1878, and Tallapoosa sends Jas. V. Ashurst, who was there from 1861 to 1863, except one session; J. H. Branch, of Lawrence, served in 1830; and the state is the gainer by the good sense of these counties in returning such men. All the other members are new and untried; so far as we can learn, and we dare say there is more or less worthiness among them. The forty we mention above will no doubt shape the legislation to a large degree in the house this winter.

OUR SENATOR.

Birmingham Chronicle.

The Chattahoochee Times gives a full column of its editorial space to a rather foolish attack on Senator Morgan. The Times would do well to learn that a majority of the people of Alabama hold precisely the views on government taxes held by our senator. We should have one protection senator instead of giving the free traders both but there is apparently no effort being made for that purpose. One thing is certain, that a very large majority of our people would not hear of any effort to retire Morgan. The day may come when the state will be represented in the senate by a man who is in sympathy with the manufacturing interests, but the free trade wing of the party will always cleave to Morgan, and when he dies there will be mourning for a dead senator and not for a retired politician. He will die in the senate. This past political services, his devotion to them in the dark days, his earnest political sympathy with them now, have all been woven into a chain which will never be broken, but which will forever bind Morgan and his people. His votes will, every one, bear the closest scrutiny and his explanation of them is fair and honest. Even those who differ with the senator on tariff questions, will not read with any pleasure the intemperate article of the Times.

Gen. Beauregard's Mistake.

Mobile Register.

It is much to be regretted that General Beauregard, in an article on the battle of Manassas in the November Century, renews his old controversy with Mr. Davis. General Beauregard was a gallant and capable officer, but General Beauregard is a man with a grievance. We do not wish to enter upon the question whether Mr. Davis interfered too much with the Confederate commanders or not. On the one hand he seems to have not interfered with General Lee, while on the other hand we have never approved of the removal of General Joseph E. Johnston. But we are not prepared to admit the justice of General Beauregard's criticisms of the ex-President's course.

Wheat to Crack.

Columbia (Miss.) Argus.

Wheat 35 cents and getting lower. From furnace men agreeing to put out their fires, to lessen the fuel and keep up prices. Nail mills shutting down for the same purpose. Farmers actually rejoicing at a big grain yield. Manufacturers lamenting too much production. Farmers obliged to sell for what they can get. Manufacturers enabled by the tariff to reduce the put out, and keep up the prices the farmer must pay. Say farmers aren't you getting sick of this one sided game?

A Hard Nut to Crack.

Birmingham Chronicle.

We did not agree with Senator Morgan entirely in his remarks last Friday night, but we give him credit for honesty of purpose and count him a pretty safe man. He certainly put in one bombshell when he referred to a certain class of people who were working convict mines and then crying out to the general government for "protection to American labor." It's a hard nut to crack.

The Republican.

NOVEMBER 8, 1884.

Shelby county goes Democratic by several hundred.

St. Clair county goes Democratic by a considerable majority.

Alabama elects all eight democratic candidates for congress.

The Legislature meets next Tuesday.

Democratic majority in Alabama is over 30,000.

The Chairman of the National Democratic Executive Committee says that there will be no counting out this time.

Old Cherokee rolled up a majority of something like a thousand votes for Cleveland, Hendricks and Forney and didn't half try.

Beat S cast nearly fifty Radical votes, but they came from the coalings. That vote should not be charged up to the rock-ribbed old Democracy of beat S.

Talladega, we are sorry to say, went Republican, through the activity of the Radicals and the apathy of the Democrats. This will probably teach our Talladega Democratic friends that it is their duty always to vote.

A democratic administration at Washington will strengthen the organized democracy in every county in this State. Very little will be heard of independent democrats for the next four years.

Iron men of the United States can probably get a bargain at Anniston in this county, as Mr. Noble has announced his intention of closing out, in event of Cleveland's election. We still think the iron works will pay there.

When the election of Cleveland and Hendricks is officially confirmed, let us jubilate and invite the whole country in. A bonfire on the mountain at White's view will light up this whole valley like day.

Etowah county gave Cleveland and Hendricks and Forney a majority of over four hundred. There was apathy among the Democrats from over-confidence while the Republicans were active. Dr. Ewing has been notified by the people of his county that he is not wanted at Washington.

Cleburne just spread herself in this election and went for Cleveland, Hendricks and Forney by a majority of several hundred more than she had ever before voted. The white Republicans of Cleburne would not vote for the Republican electoral ticket, because it had two negroes upon it. Blood is thicker than water.

Every box but one in Calhoun went Democratic by comfortable majorities. The Democrats of Anniston worked heroically to save it; but they could not stem the influence of Mr. Noble, who, with sadly mistaken views of the purposes of the Democratic party, imagined his interests as a manufacturer lay with the Republican party.

The news of the election was received here with deep but quiet satisfaction. When the dispatches would indicate the election of Cleveland, or with anxiety when they would indicate a different result. At this writing (Wednesday evening) the dispatches claim the election of Cleveland by 230 electoral votes, and there is consequently great joy in the old town; but even yet they fear to make a demonstration but there may be some mistake about it.

Calhoun did not poll a full vote by 1000 to 1200, yet three thousand or more voters got to the polls and the Radicals went under by a majority of two to one. If they had thought there was any need for them, there were over a thousand Democrats who would have been found at the polls. We regret that every Democrat in the county did not vote.

A FAIR COUNT

Will Give Cleveland the Victory.

New York, Indiana, Connecticut, New Jersey, Michigan and probably Wisconsin, with the Solid South elect Grover Cleveland President.

RADICAL REVOLUTIONISTS MONKEYING WITH THE RETURNS.

There Will be no Counting out Allowed this Time.

The Democratic Party Showing a Good Healthy Backbone.

REPORTS CONFLICTING AND MUCH ANXIETY.

But All Right in the End.

All day Wednesday and Thursday the most conflicting dispatches were received here, private dispatches claiming the State of New York (on which the election depends) for Cleveland by a decisive majority, while the Western Union telegraph company, which is under the control of Jay Gould, a Blaine man, constantly gave accounts favorable to Blaine, and the associated press dispatches, under like influences, did the same. This state of suspense has continued up to the present time, (Friday noon.) The Democrats of the North are celebrating their grand and well earned victory by the firing of cannon, and declare in unmistakable language that they will not submit to any counting out process this time, but will have a fair count or a free fight. Meanwhile Blaine has been telegraphed for by the Radical conspirators of New York, and the gravest apprehensions are felt that the fraud of 1876 will be again attempted. The wildest excitement prevails in New York city and Washington and the police force has been largely increased. It is reported, though not credited, that Jay Gould has been jailed, and that a raid has been made upon the Western Union telegraph office in Washington.

All the Southern States went for Cleveland, though Virginia was close. Indiana, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Michigan and probably Illinois and Wisconsin have put a foot down on the bloody shirt, while many hitherto strong Republican States have gone for Blaine only by close shave. Most of our dispatches relate to N. Y., as that is the pivotal State. In conclusion we will say that we do not have a shadow of doubt but that Cleveland is elected and that he will take his seat as the next President of the United States. Exit Blaine and the bloody shirt. Enter a restored Union in fact and fraternal feeling. Peace and good will to men!

NEW YORK SAFE.

New York, November 5.—New York gives small plurality, but a safe one for Cleveland. New Jersey and Connecticut are both certainly democratic. Colonel Vilas telegraphs that Wisconsin is also for Cleveland.

BLAINE'S GAME OF BRAG.

New York, November 5, 8 p. m.—To The Constitution:—Carefully rectified returns give this state to Cleveland by very nearly five thousand and plurality. Blaine is reported to be on his way to New York to figure out a favorable result. Jay Gould's agents cannot count Cleveland out, though they will probably try it.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

INDIANA RELIABLY DEMOCRATIC.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 5.—To The Constitution: It is impossible to estimate at this hour 7 p. m. Despite the Associate press reports we believe Indiana is democratic. Reliable private advices from over the state indicate this.

THE SENTINEL.

GROVER CLEVELAND'S FIGURES.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 6.—By Associated Press: The latest figures received by Grover Cleveland give the democrats a majority in the state of 2,766.

THE NEW YORK HERALD CLAIMS 4,000 MAJORITY FOR CLEVELAND.

NEW YORK, November 6.—2:30 a. m.—To The Constitution: We believe that Cleveland has 4,000 plurality.

The returns are being held back.

CHAIRMAN GORMAN ANNOUNCES THE RESULT TO THE COUNTRY.

NEW YORK, November 6, 2 a. m.—Senator Gorman, chairman of the National Democratic Executive Committee, says:

The vote of nearly every precinct in the State shows a small but safe majority for Cleveland and Hendricks. There will be no counting out this time. (Bully for you old boy! Stick!)

THE LATEST AND BEST.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov 7th.—The press bulletin from New York, at 8:40 a. m., gives Cleveland 1312 plurality in N. Y. State. Their own witnesses concede his election.

The interest in the election has been shared by the employees of the REPUBLICAN office this week, and we do not give our usual amount of reading matter; but we give enough to do a whole week when we tell of a glorious Democratic victory.

A Fine Mechanist.

Our press got out of order the other day and we sent for Mr. Oscar Camp, of this place, who never fails on any sort of machinery. He put the press up when it was first bought, without instructions, and this time he fixed it without difficulty. He has not yet encountered any sort of machinery that he has not understood and been able to fix. We give this notice freely. He deserves it. He is the best machinist probably in this part of Alabama.

MARRIED—In Jacksonville, at the residence of Hon. A. Woods, father of the bride, by Rev. J. H. McLean, Miss Helen Woods and Dr. John L. McDaniel, of Tallapoosa, Ga.

The attendants were Mr. James Crow and Miss Jessie Woods, Mr. Robt. Arnold and Miss Fannie McDaniel, Mr. Will Woods and Miss Mattie Linder, and Mr. Walter Dean and Miss Ella Wyly.

The relatives of the bride and a few friends of the family witnessed the beautiful and interesting ceremony. At the conclusion of the service, the wedding party dined and at once took the train, the attendants and some other accompanying the bride and groom as far as Oxnana on their way home. The bride is very much beloved in Jacksonville and the REPUBLICAN joins her many friends here in wishing for her a long life of perfect wedded happiness. Dr. McDaniel is spoken of as a most worthy and successful gentleman, deserving of such a treasure as he has found.

Washed-Out Hair.

There is a sort of pallid, chalky complexion which the novelists call a "washed-out complexion." It is ghastly enough, and no mistake. Washed-out, faded, discolored, or parti-colored hair is almost as repulsive and melancholy. Parker's Hair Balsam will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was; brown, auburn or black. Why wear moss on your head, when you may easily have lively, shining hair.

AGED BAPTIST MINISTER.

Two More Important Cases.

Your agent being in Columbus, Ga., a few days ago, and meeting the venerable brother J. H. Campbell, we asked him for the news. His reply was, "I have two more important cases effected by Swift's Specific to report." This venerable man is known far and wide for his unremitting labors of love in the behalf of the poor of Columbus. It will be remembered that the Swift's Specific Co., has donated quite an amount of their famous medicine, to be distributed by Mr. Campbell among the poor of the city; hence his remark. He said:

"I have just seen a lady who has been greatly annoyed by a Tetter in one of her hands. It had given her much trouble and pain. She said she had been treated by several physicians during the past three or four years with the old remedies, but without giving any relief. I suggested Swift's Specific, and she took four bottles and is now apparently perfectly well. Her hand is smooth and not a single sign of the disease left. It is marvelous how this medicine renovates the system."

"What about the other case?" "Well, that was a lady also. She had been afflicted with the eczema for four years. Her face, hands and arms, as well as her body, was covered over with sores and scabs. It was one of the worst cases of this terrible disease that I have ever seen. The suffering of the poor creature was beyond expression. She tried every remedy at command, including mercury and iodine of potash, but she only grew worse. She was in this condition when I first saw the case. I soon had her taking Swift's Specific, and she has now only taken two bottles, but every mark of the disease has almost entirely disappeared. Her strength and general health have greatly improved. It is one of the most remarkable cures that has come under my observation."

"Mr. Campbell, you have had a long and varied experience in mingling with men, and observing their afflictions and the remedies used—what is your opinion as to the merits of Swift's Specific?"

"In a ministry of sixty years I have mingled with every class of society, and have observed closely the variety of diseases which afflict humanity. Blood diseases are the most numerous and the most difficult to remove. In my earlier life, Sarsaparilla was the great blood purifier. Many others have come to the surface, but it is my deliberate judgment that Swift's Specific is the grandest blood purifier ever discovered. There is nothing too good to say about Swift's Specific."

Treaties on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.

An Editor.

I have been almost entirely cured of nasal catarrh of several years standing, by 2 bottles of B. B. B. I have tried many other remedies, but none equal B. B. B. It is a quick cure, while others are slow.

Kidney Complaint.

For over six years I have been a terrible sufferer from a troublesome kidney complaint, for the relief of which I have spent over $250 without benefit; the most noted so-called remedies failing. The use of one single bottle of B. B. B. has been marvelous, giving more relief than all other treatment combined. It is a quick cure, while others, if they cure at all, are in the distant future.

Catarrh.

The China and Queensware House of McBride & Co., Atlanta, is perhaps the largest of this kind in the south. Mr. A. J. McBride of this firm has been cured of catarrh of the nose of 15 years standing by the use of B. B. B. after every known remedy and treatment has failed. B. B. B. cures catarrh in a few weeks, after slothful stuff has failed for years. Write to him and learn all the facts.

ANNUAL SETTLEMENT.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County, Special Term Nov. 3, 1884. This day came N. B. Spradley, administrator of the estate of M. D. C. Spradley, deceased, and filed in court his account and vouchers for an annual settlement of said estate. It is therefore ordered by the court that the 1st day of Dec. 1884 be and is hereby appointed the day upon which to audit and pass upon said account and make said settlement, and that notice be given for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in said county, as a notice to all persons concerned, to be and appear before us, at our office in the court house of said county on said 1st day of Dec. 1884 and contest said settlement if they think proper.

Miss Nellie Kent.

Wellington, Lorain county, O., writes: "Dr. S. D. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O., Gentlemen: I have been a great sufferer from chronic catarrh, bronchitis and neuritis of the face. I have been taking your PRUNSA for two months, and the cough is much better. I like your PRUNSA very much."

C. E. Dupler, aged thirty-four years, of Equality, Illinois, had been afflicted with a chronic catarrh which he first discovered six years ago. In succession he lost his smell, taste and hearing. The disease was so malignant that it not only attacked the softer parts, but destroyed the bony portion of the nose and seriously affected the external parts. He could only hear a watch ticking by holding it close to his ear. He suffered intense pain in the nose, from which green, dry clots of offensive odor fell. In this condition he presented himself to Dr. Hartman several months ago. He can now hear a watch eight inches from his right and six inches from his left ear. His taste and smell are again returning, and the external part of his nose is quite well. Four more grateful patients ever left a physician's office than Mr. Dupler. He said, "Why in the world was PRUNSA not prescribed for me long ago?"

Cramps of the Stomach.

We have the privilege of reporting the following case. Those similarly afflicted can get the name and address of Dr. Hartman. The lady does not want her name in the papers. For a year, or years, (the writer does not remember the length of time) this lady had cramps, the most fearful of the stomach, every day and night, "which would be followed by that terrible weakness, which was something wonderful." The suffering and distress of this lady was indescribable and almost unendurable. After all the physicians and medicines had failed, and all hope had almost fled, Dr. Hartman was consulted, and from the first day of taking his PRUNSA, the cramps and all had feeling left her, and now for over a month has been entirely free from every symptom. More thankful patient no doctor ever had.

Mr. Boggs, druggist, Charleston, Kanawha Co., W. Va., writes: "PRUNSA sells well here and gives good satisfaction. Customers speak well of it."

"Dr. J. Anderson, Co-hocton, Ohio, writes: 'Your PRUNSA sells well and gives good satisfaction. I consider it a splendid medicine.'"

Two Dangerous Seasons.

Spring and fall are times when so many people get sick. The changes in the weather are severe on feeble persons, and even those naturally strong are apt, as they say, "to be feeling miserable." Then they are just in condition to be struck down with some kind of fever. A bottle or two of Parker's Tonic will invigorate the digestion, put the liver, kidneys and blood in perfect order, and prevent more serious attacks. Why suffer, and perhaps die, when so simple a medicine will save you? Good for both sexes and all ages.

NOTICE.

FIRST AND LAST CALL

This is to call the attention of parties owing the Potapoff Guano Agency and under my control to the fact that the option to purchase in full at 100 cents per ton if not paid at maturity, so I shall expect prompt delivery and shall only extend the option during the first week in November. Parties who procure Fertilizer at Jacksonville from Mr. D. Z. Goodlett, will settle with Mr. D. Z. Goodlett, will settle with Mr. M. E. Elgin & Co., at Anniston, with Messrs. John B. Morris & Co., and W. J. Edmondson, at Leota (above Greensport) with James Hogan. Still any who prefer to settle with me in person can do so at any time as I keep an inventory with me all the time of the notes and accounts. Small amounts will be settled for convenience in money at whatever rate is worth. My business demands prompt settlement and I hope all will find it convenient to pay at maturity. All parties who did not settle their Guano notes for 1883, must settle with me before the 1st of November. Parties who procure Fertilizer at Jacksonville along one and all should count and enjoy the peace of a good conscience toward your fellow man.

Very Respectfully,

Elegant House for Sale.

The heirs of the late Mrs. E. L. Grant will sell the family residence in Jacksonville at a bargain, for purpose of division.

The building is of brick and contains eight rooms. It sits on a corner lot, about midway, facing South Main street, within a minute's walk of the public square, and has choice flower yard and shrubbery in front. The house is surrounded by fruit trees of the very finest varieties. The interior finish of the rooms is elegant, being furnished with marble mantels &c. All necessary outbuildings. It will be sold for less than the building itself cost. It would make a most desirable Summer residence, Jacksonville being the healthiest point in the State according to official report of the State Health Officer, and beautiful beyond description for its natural scenery. Sulphur, Chalybeate, Epsom, Freestone, Limestone, Magnesia and other mineral waters in the town or within a short drive of same. For further particulars apply to

MANHOOD

How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's celebrated Essay on the radical cure of Seminal Weakness, Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc. (also, OYSTERS, Gonorrhea, and all the diseases of the male sex, or sexual extravagance, &c.). The author, a most successful practitioner, states that the alarming consequences of self-abuse can be radically cured, and that a mode of cure at once simple, safe, and sure, has been discovered. Every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man, and read carefully. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of four cents or two postage stamps.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 11, 1884.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:

Both houses of the General Assembly met to day and after the enrollment of members, adjourned until tomorrow, when they will be fully organized by the election of officers. The Senate caucus elected Thos. Seay, of Hale county President, and all its old officers, including Ex-Senator Howell, of Cleburne, who offered for his old place of enrolling and enrolling clerk. Chancellor McSpadden was Mr. Seay's opponent for the Presidency of the Senate. The race between these two distinguished gentlemen was conducted with the greatest good humor. Chancellor McSpadden will doubtless be made chairman of the Judiciary Committee, a position of little less honor than the Presidency of the Senate.

The Senate caucus admitted the Independent Senator from Mobile to the privilege of the caucus; but the House retired the Independent members from Mobile, from the caucus by an overwhelming vote. The vote in the Senate caucus on the admission of the Mobile Senator was so close that there was only the difference of one vote. The action of both houses in this matter is variously regarded here. The Mobile men made out a pretty fair case for themselves, and those who voted for them did it on their statement of the case. Others regarded the preservation of party lines as above everything, and while they sympathize with the Mobile members to a degree, voted for their exclusion from the caucuses of the Democratic party.

Messrs. Armstrong, of Lee, Brown, of Tuscaloosa and Johns, of Selma, were candidates for Speaker of the House. Mr. Armstrong was elected on the second ballot by the House caucus. Messrs. McIver, of Macon, Garrett, of Calhoun, Pope, of Etowah, and Johnson, of Chambers, were candidates for Clerk of the House. McIver was elected on the third ballot. Horace Hood, of Monroe, was elected Assistant Clerk of the House without opposition, by acclamation. Richard Baugh, of Jefferson, was elected enrolling clerk. E. C. Elmore, of Montgomery, Enrolling Clerk, Robt. Hasson, of Etowah, Door Keeper. Hasson was formerly elected from Calhoun, but has since moved to Etowah. He had three opponents, who got fifteen votes between them. Bob, it will be remembered, lost a leg in the Confederate army. One of his badly beaten opponents remarked: when the result of the ballot was announced, that if he ever ran for office again, he would go out and break a leg off first.

Dorris' circus was here to day and the city was literally jammed and packed with negroes from the country. The election of a Democratic President has not depressed them to an extent that will keep them away from a show of this character.

The Democrats of Montgomery have made elaborate arrangements to celebrate the Democratic victory in the national contest tomorrow night. It will no doubt be a big thing, more especially if the official count in New York is ascertained to be certainly in favor of Cleveland before that time. The Democrats here are perfectly confident that Cleveland will be seated, despite the evident efforts of the Radicals to again steal the Presidency.

I omitted to say in the first part of this letter that Mr. Clay, of Madison, was made Secretary of the Senate. Mr. Clarke, of Montgomery, Assistant Secretary and Mr. Padgett, of Jackson, Door Keeper.

Masters Lottier Brooks, of Tuskegee, and Eddie Woodward, of Calhoun, were appointed pages of the Senate.

All these gentlemen served last session and were most efficient and faithful officers. The Legislature will get down to work by Thursday, when I will write you again, though it will not reach you, probably, in time for this week's issue.

CLEVELAND'S PLURALITY GROWING.

No Fraud Yet Disclosed in New York.

New York, Nov. 12.—The result of the official count so far in this State has been entirely satisfactory to the Democrats, and only confirms Cleveland's election. Fifty of the sixty counties in the State have officially reported, and the result is unchanged, leaving Cleveland a plurality in New York of 1200 to 1300. Among the counties yet to report are New York and Kings counties. The entire interest centers in New York, it being now conceded that the figures already reported from the outside counties will not be changed by the official count.

In every county in the State, with the exception of New York and Kings counties, the ballots are burned so soon as the votes are computed by the inspectors of the Election, so that in the interior of the State there is nothing for the canvassers to do but to scrutinize the inspectors' reports and see that no clerical errors have been made. In New York and Kings counties, however, all the ballots cast have to be recounted, which is four or five days' task. The Canvassing Board in New York consists of 24 Aldermen, sixteen of whom are Democrats. The vote in New York has been carefully canvassed by experts and no errors were discovered, and it is not thought that any will be found in the official canvass. The result in Kings county so far shows a gain for Cleveland. No fraud has yet been discovered in New York, nor is it at all likely that at the most will 100 votes be thrown out. Cleveland can easily spare 1,000 and still have a safe majority of 200 to 300.

THE COUNT IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 12.—The Courier-Journal correspondent telegraphs as follows:

The Republicans confess tonight that the official returns from the interior Republican counties in the State reported today are disappointing. They now pin their faith, if they have any left, upon the count in this city and Brooklyn. Their only hope now is to get up a racket over the vote in these two large cities. They will find, however, that the New York City and Brooklyn Democrats will be equal to any emergency that may arise; they will not lose a single trick. Your correspondent will not be in the least surprised that when the official count is concluded, Mr. Cleveland has over 1,700 plurality. I think he will gain 50 votes a day from now on until the close of the canvass.

It was said at National Democratic headquarters last night that the election of Alderman Waite, Republican, as Chairman of the Board of County Canvassers in New York county, has no bearing upon the Presidential count, but only upon the canvass for local officers in which the County Democracy and Tammany had opposing candidates, both of which polled more votes than Republican candidates on national matters. The Democrats act together. Tammany and the County Democracy. Aldermen are to be respectfully chairman of the two canvassing committees—that on protests and that on corrected returns.

After a thorough examination of the vote of New York City the Republican counsel have agreed upon the canvass of the figures already accepted and announced by the Democrats, so that there will be no contest on the Presidential count.

John Kelly stated to night that he would answer for his men who are on the County Board of Canvassers. "I will be present myself and will watch the count like a cat watches a rat," was his remark.

One Republican Thief Pleads Insanity.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Application was made to-day to the District Commissioners by friends of J. O. P. Burns for the commitment of Burns to the Government Insane Asylum. Burns is under indictment and on bail charged with embezzlement of a large amount while Superintendent of the Postoffice Department building. The application is made through the police department in the regular form used in cases of indigent insane. It is signed by two physicians in good standing, Drs. Layton and Murphy, and Bishop-elect Foley. As Burns is under criminal indictment, the Commissioners have no power to commit him to the asylum. The application will have to be taken through the Court.

WILL CLEVELAND MARRY?

The Ladies of the White House Under the New Administration.

ALBANY, Nov. 6.—Here it is regarded as settled that Gov. Cleveland is the next President, and already the gossips are busy with conjectures as to who will be the lady of the White House. There is a well defined belief among his friends that there is a young lady in Western New York who will soon be led to the altar by the President elect. Others who have known him long and well say that he will never marry, and that this talk simply comes of the fact that he has shown this young woman some slight attentions since he was elected Governor. Early in life his hopes and ambitions for a wife were crushed by the hand of death, and his affection for the lost one has kept him treading the wine press of life alone. If the reports that he is to marry are not true then his own immediate family will furnish the lady to do the social honors of his administration. It is generally believed by those who know him best that there will be less festivities during his term of office than there have been for many years past. He has been a hard-working Governor and will probably continue his industrious habits as President. Bachelor as he is, the White House will, however, have a most creditable mistress. There are four ladies in his immediate family, either of whom can well do the honors of the household. His eldest sister in this country, Mrs. W. E. Hoyt, of Fayetteville, would fill any position with credit. She is a middle-aged lady, of pleasing address, who has spent a good deal of time at the Executive Mansion here since her brother has been Governor. She has made many friends here in the capital of the State and will doubtless do the same in Washington, where she will probably go the 4th of next March, Miss R. E. Cleveland is the maiden sister. She still resides in the little cottage at Holland's Patent, just above Utica. A good public speaker, a quick conversationalist and generally a plain woman of intellectual force, she would do her share in entertaining her brother's guests at the National Capital. Mr. Cleveland has a sister who for twenty years has been a missionary at Ceylon. She has two charming young lady daughters, Mary and Carrie Hastings, whom the Governor has been for years educating in this country. He has given them every advantage and they have improved them. They will no doubt be a part of their uncle's family circle at Washington, as they have been at times here.

With Mrs. Hoyt or any one of the three other ladies spoken of the social end of the first Democratic administration for a quarter of a century will be well sustained, even should the President-elect continue a bachelor.

Drowning men catch at a straw. Don't be surprised if the corruption conspirators voiced by The New York Tribune continue to claim Blaine's election, even after the work of the county boards yesterday. Gould, Blaine, Elkins & Co. are apt to keep on claiming New York, though the county and State canvassing boards show completely the fallacy of their claims. They have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars out of their own pockets, and have been guilty of incredible wickedness and rascality to defeat Cleveland, and they will cling to the last thread of hope that their efforts may not be futile and their rascality exposed.—Selma Times

It is alleged that Blaine is playing his present game to pose as a Republican martyr four years hence. He wants to say he was cheated out of the Presidency in order to run again. But he won't be able to play the Tilden role. The cause doesn't exist, if reports are true. Tilden in decrepitude refused the honor Blaine in his grave won't have the chance.—Selma Times

In Butler's cup of bitterness there is a single sweet drop. His candidacy saved Massachusetts to Blaine. In 1880 General Garfield's plurality was 53,245. According to the latest returns of Tuesday's contest Blaine's plurality will not much exceed 10,000. Butler drew off 23,000 Democratic votes, which added to the Democratic column, would have given the state to Cleveland.

The expense of holding a general election in New York is quite an item. The bill which the city will have to pay this year amounts to $155,000, including pay of poll clerks and inspectors, rents, repairs, stationery and printing.

"Turn the rascals out!"—the new set of rascals at the helm of the Republican party. The old ones stole the people's money, the new ones are trying to steal the people themselves.—Selma Times

Just 117 days to the inauguration of President Cleveland.

The legislation sold for Blaine cannot be delivered.

An Exploded Boom.

A long, lean and chronic Anti-Potash Boom met the new, fat and saucy Atlanta Big Bold Boom, on a hot, sultry day. "Who are you?" asked the B. B. B. Boom. "I am the Anti-Potash Boom," was the sad reply as the perspiration rolled down, and it leaned heavily on the B. B. B. Boom for support.

"Don't lean on me," said the B. B. B. Boom. "I may look strong, but I am quite young only 14 months old, and am growing rapidly, and am mighty weak in the knees. I am doing the work which you have failed to do, although you are fifty years old. You are old, and tough, and rich, and don't require support. But what cause you to look so thin of late?"

"Well I hardly know," replied the Anti-Potash Boom. "My physician told me that my abilities have been overtaxed, and that while trying to whip out all opposition by force and brag, that I have only proven my inability to cope with what he calls my superior. And as I am suffering on me—having fought me fifty years before any one knew I was here, and now I am unable to perform feats that others are doing. I am compassed by my friends have turned against me and call me a humbug, and oh, lordy, how sick I become at the very sight of B. B. B. Hold my head while I die."

ATLANTA, June 5.

Blough BARK COMPANY: I take pleasure in making the following statement. For four years I have been a great sufferer from Malarial Blood Poison, and for six months have had Rheumatism to such an extent, that I was almost dead, and I am unable to perform feats that others are doing. I am compassed by my friends have turned against me and call me a humbug, and oh, lordy, how sick I become at the very sight of B. B. B. Hold my head while I die."

Calling at your office one day, I secured two bottles of B. B. B., and commenced its use at once, and before one bottle had been used, I felt almost wonderful change. Rheumatism relieved and can use my arms as good as ever, cured the malarial poison from my blood, and all my ailments are being rapidly relieved, and I feel better than I have for six years. To tell you the truth I have never used such a wonderful medicine in all my life, as the effects have been magical. It has acted as a splendid tonic, gave a good appetite, and improved my general health. I cheerfully recommend it as a quick remedy.

A Painful Accident.

While engaged in firing salutes in honor of the Democratic victory, Mr. Elston Morgan, son of Major Samuel Morgan, had his right arm blown off. The news of his misfortune cast a gloom over the vast crowd.—Rome Courier.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It was expected that the spoils-men would let go reluctantly; but they will let go all the same.

Cleveland and Hendricks have been elected. Stand aside, and allow them to pass up to the white house.

It is said that all the presidents of the United States have had blue eyes except General Harrison, and he did not live long.

Dr. Burchard and Mr. Blaine are alike in one respect. The former wishes he hadn't made that speech; the latter wishes he hadn't written those letters.

The alliterative Blaine parson may derive what comfort he can from the knowledge that the "party of Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" is now the rooster that now rules the roost.

The defeat of Henry Cabot Lodge for Congress by 787 majority ought to be a lesson to him—that the "Scholar in politics" should at least be honest. He had no business supporting Blaine.

Sheriff's Sale.
By virtue of one writ issued from the Circuit Court of Calhoun County, Alabama, and docketed in favor of W. L. Wadsworth & Co., and against E. G. Morris, I will sell before the Court house door of said county, in the town of Jacksonville, within the legal hours of sale on Monday the 1st day of December 1884, the following described real estate to-wit: Part of northeast quarter of section 13, township 15, range 6, north-west quarter of section 18, township 15, range 7, south-half of southeast quarter and north-half of north-east quarter of section 7 township 15, range 7, west-half of south-west quarter less 20 acres, in section 8, township 15, range 7, west-half of south-west quarter of section 13, township 15, range 6, being in all 819 acres, more or less, and lying and being situated in the county of Calhoun and State of Alabama—levied upon as the property of said E. G. Morris to satisfy said writ.
M. W. WOODWARD, Sheriff.

NOTICE.
FIRST AND LAST CALL.
This is to call the attention of parties owing the Potomac Guano Agency and under my control to the fact that the option to pay in full at 10 cents per bushel, at maturity, so I shall expect prompt delivery and shall only extend the option during the first week in November. Parties who procured fertilizers at Jacksonville from Mr. D. Z. Goodlett, will settle with him. Those who received fertilizers at Weavers Station, will settle with W. M. Elgin & Co., at Anniston with Messrs. John E. Morris & Co., and W. J. Edmondson, at Leota (above Greensport), with James Hogan. Still any who prefer to settle with me in person can do so at any time as I keep an inventory with me all the time of the notes and accounts. Small amounts will be settled for convenience in money at whatever rate of exchange is current. My business demands prompt settlement and I hereby give notice that I will not extend the option to pay at maturity. All parties who did not settle their Guano notes for 1884, must settle with me hereafter to pay cash, so come along one and all and check it out and enjoy the peace of a good conscience toward your fellow man.
Very Respectfully,

Washed-Out Hair.

There is a sort of pallid, chalky complexion which the novelists call a "washed-out complexion." It is ghastly enough, and no mistake. Washed-out, faded, discolored, or parti-colored hair is almost as repulsive and melancholy. Parker's Hair Balm will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was; brown, auburn or black. Why wear moss on your head, when you may easily have lively, shining hair.

Kidney Complaint.

For over six years I have been a sufferer from a troublesome kidney complaint, for the relief of which I have spent over $250 without benefit; the most noted so-called remedies proving failures. The use of one single bottle of B. B. B. has been marvelous, giving more relief than all other treatment combined. It is a quick cure, while others, if they cure at all, are in the distant future.

LEGISLATIVE.

The Senate on Thursday the 20th passed the bill increasing the salary of the Governor from $3000 to $4000, by a vote of 18 yeas to 12 nays.

Both the Senate and House passed a joint resolution declaring it to be the sense of those houses that there be established in this State ten Circuit Judges and four Chancellors, an increase of two circuits and one chancery divisions. Bills to this effect will, of course pass, if there is not a change of sentiment in the Legislature.

The House judiciary committee reported favorably on a bill to fix the salaries of judges of the Supreme and Circuit Courts and Chancellors at the amount fixed by the code of 1867. Under that code Supreme Court Judges received $4000, Circuit Judges $3000 and Chancellors $3000. After long debate the bill was postponed and made special order for a future day. A young squab of a fellow named Branch, who sits as an Independent from one of the counties of the Tennessee valley, sprung a resolution on the House to the effect that the amounts heretofore appropriated to the University and Normal schools was grossly disproportionate to the amount appropriated to the common schools, and that these appropriations should be decreased and the common school fund increased. This kind of cheap demagogism has long been the stock and trade of the Radicals and Independents of the Tennessee valley. Last session they came loaded with such as this. Mr. Branch's resolution was referred to the committee on Education, where it will doubtless receive that consideration its merits deserve.

The present Legislature has lost two members by death. Col. R. H. Powell died before the session began, and Mr. J. A. Vaughn died after the opening of the session and in the city of Montgomery.

The people of some of the Cumberland mountain counties in Virginia and Kentucky have been dying like sheep from the rot by drinking water from the springs run low by the long drought and from ponds left by dried up creeks.

The Legislature is still engaged on one of the several bills introduced to make the breaking of a contract a criminal offense. These bills are similar in character to others that have been presented every session of the Legislature for the last six years. The design is to better regulate labor in the "black belt," but in trying to do this there is great danger of going too far and placing labor in a condition of almost peonage—a measure that will inevitably arouse the wrath of the white laborers and tenantry of the white counties and be attended by most serious consequences to the Democratic party. If any measure of this sort is to be passed great care should be taken first, that it does not come in conflict with the Constitution, where it says there shall be no imprisonment for debt in this State, and, second, that the law bear equally upon employer and employee.

In other words, that the law be scrupulously just both to rich and poor. Our Middle Alabama friends should not forget that while their labor needs heroic remedies for its reputation, perhaps, the laboring men for the most part of this and other sections of the State are scrupulously honest and honorable white men, who need no statutes filled with pains and penalties to make them stand up to their contracts.

Rev. Mr. Sox will hold in the Presbyterian church, in Jacksonville, a meeting of the catechism class, Saturday evening before the 4th Sunday in December. Sunday morning following he will lecture on the commandments at 10 o'clock and he will preach at 11 o'clock.

Hon. Wm. H. Forney, went to Washington, by way of Montgomery, where he will stop over a day or two Tuesday.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

From the Montgomery Advertiser.

The Senate has been engaged largely with a class of bills of a legal nature whose general importance is none the less of interest to the general reader. Next Tuesday, however, there will be a lively time over the crop lien. There is a very small sprinkling of farmers in the upper house but that is no reason why the Senate should not understand the needs of the agriculture of the State for the repeal of this law.

On Monday there will likely be an interesting discussion on a bill adversely reported to fix exemptions within constitutional limits at $1,000 of personal property and 80 acres of land.

Mr. Evington's bill to prevent draw bridge owners from interfering with navigation, fixes the penalty at $500.

The judiciary committee of the Senate has reported favorably a bill to make owner of a building in which gambling is carried on liable to the man who loses any money in his building. The owner must, of course, know that such gambling is being carried on in his house. It gives the loser the right to recover by suit against the owner, both what he lost and 10 per cent a month on the amount lost. The same bill was passed by the Senate two years ago and was favorably reported in the House but was not reached. It is a good bill and will stop some holy people from furnishing to gamblers a sheltering place.

Mr. Troy's bill to do away with the two grades of murder and two of manslaughter and fix only two grades of homicide—murder and manslaughter—passed the Senate yesterday and will stand a fine chance of becoming a law.

Mr. Foster is very much interested in the bill he introduced in the Senate, which provides for the better care of the paupers. It embodies a plan which, in its general outline, was highly recommended by Superintendent Bryce, of the Insane Hospital, in his last biennial report to the Board of Trustees.

It looks to the creation of seven pauper districts composed in the main four counties each. A proper asylum for paupers, idiots and harmless insane persons shall be erected at some central point in the district at the expense of counties thereof in proportion to their taxable property, and by the aid of $1,000 to each county from the state treasury. The asylum is to be maintained by the counties in proportion to the inmates they furnish. The time is near at hand when Alabama must furnish better accommodations for the three classes of persons mentioned.

The bill of Mr. McSpadden fixing the terms of holding the Circuit courts in this judicial circuit gives three weeks each term of court to Calhoun county.

A bill has been introduced in the Senate to repeal the law requiring labor for costs.

The bill to require persons carrying weapons to wear a placard, "I am armed" was laid on the table in the House the 22nd inst.

A Foolish Threat Shown Up.
Philadelphia Record.

One of the large woolen goods mills in this city which was to have been shut down in the event of Cleveland's election, is running as usual, and its proprietor has instructed his agents at Liverpool to purchase 200,000 pounds of wool at next week's auction sales of East India wool in that market. This does not look like a permanent suspension of work. It proves, on the contrary, what was generally believed—that the threat of cessation was foolish and insincere.

This is one of the elections when the popular vote and the electoral vote go together. Cleveland received a popular majority of about 100,000, and will receive a majority of 27 electoral votes. They do not by any means go together. Time and again the popular vote has been given for one man and the electoral majority for another.

On Thursday, Hon. S. K. McSpadden was unanimously confirmed by the Senate of Alabama as a trustee of the State Deaf and Dumb and Blind Asylum, in place of G. T. McAfee deceased.

SOLID SENSE.

A Talk With Cleveland.

Boston, Nov. 22.—In the course of an interview with a representative of the Globe-to-day, President-elect Cleveland, in speaking of the business and manufacturing interests of the country and the effect of a change in the administration on those interests, said:

"It goes without saying that the Democratic party is made up of merchants, business and workmen, and everybody in it certainly desires good times and realizes that all the people must be prosperous to secure that result. We have fifty-five millions of people, almost boundless resources, hundreds of the strongest financial institutions in the world, thousands of enterprising merchants, the most successful manufacturers, and the most intelligent farmers and workmen on the face of the earth. Now, surely a country with these characteristics has every qualification for solid prosperity. It will be my aim, and the aim of all associated with me in the conduct of affairs at Washington, to give the people of the United States a safe, economical and conservative government. The fact that so many business men and manufacturers and workmen voted with the Democratic party in this election shows that they were not afraid of a change in the administration. The Democratic party, in its Chicago platform, meant what it said and said what it meant, and will carry the provisions of that platform which relate to the business interests of the country into effect. The most important thing is the restoration of confidence and a determination to forget past heat and excitement and to devote our lives to things which tend to the substantial welfare of the country and all of its people. In this event every man should feel that he has a part to perform."

After Suffering Eleven Years.

Dawson, Ga., August 30, 1884.—I suffered with tetter for eleven years. It was on my face and body, and gave me untold trouble and pain. I tried the virtue of many remedies, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but found no relief, and had almost despaired of my life. I was induced to try S. S. S. as a last resort. After taking six bottles the tetter was removed and my skin smoothed off, and I am perfectly well. I feel like a new man. Swift's Specific is undoubtedly the best blood purifier in the world, and I recommend it to suffering humanity everywhere.

L. H. LEZ.

The Supreme Bench.

ATLANTA, Sept. 23, 1884.—From experience I think S. S. S. a very valuable remedy for cutaneous diseases, and at the same time an invigorating tonic.

JAMES JACKSON,
Chief Justice of Ga.

Cured with Two Bottles.

JENSENVILLE, Ill., Aug. 2, 1884.—For over two years I was afflicted with a ring worm on my neck, which would peel off, and burn like fire. Calling on an M. D., he pronounced it a cutaneous eruption of the neck. This frightened me, and after trying everything in the market, including Fowler's solution of arsenic, without success, I was advised to try S. S. S., which I did, and after taking two small bottles a permanent cure was effected.

ROBT. H. MANTON,
Of the U. S. N. and Pac. Ex. Co.

A Child.

TALBOTON, GA., Sept. 12, 1884.—My little son, now seven years old, broke out when a babe three weeks with what the doctors called eczema, beginning on the head and gradually spreading over his whole body. He was treated for five years or more by various physicians without relief, and the little boy's health was completely broken down. About a year ago I was induced to use on him Swift's Specific, and two bottles cured him sound and well, and there has been no sign of a return of the disease.

CLEVELAND SPEAKS.

ON THE RIGHTS OF THE COLORED PEOPLE.

He Assures Them That Their Rights are Protected by the Constitution, and That It Will Be the Aim of the Democracy to Enforce Instead of Disturbing the Country.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 20.—Governor Cleveland was asked by an associated press reporter to-day if he was aware of the decision existing among the colored people of the south that a change in the administration would unfavorably affect their condition, to which he replied: "Yes, I have been astonished at the statement that there was apprehension existing among the colored people that in some way their rights, now secured to them under the laws and constitution of the United States, were in danger from the election of a Democratic president. I am even told that some of them are led to suppose that the result of the recent election means that they may again be made slaves. All of this has appeared to me to be so absurd—and I have been so sure that the slightest intelligent reflection would dislodge such foolish fears—that I can hardly deem any notice of them necessary. But there is not the slightest objection to calling the attention of all who are in the least uneasy or uncertain upon this subject to the fact that the title of the colored people to freedom and all the rights of citizenship cannot be disturbed except by a change in the constitution, which it would be absolutely impossible to make. Besides the present condition or status of these people has been so fully accepted by the entire country that no one should have the slightest idea that any attempt will be made to change it, if there was any possibility of the accomplishing such a thing. So far as the new administration is related to this subject, the whole country can be sure that the lawful power and jurisdiction of the executive will be so exercised that the rights of all citizens, white or black, under the constitution and laws, will be preserved and protected, and all advantages to which they are entitled by reason of their citizenship, will be secured to them. There need be no fear that either the Democratic party, or its newly elected administration, proposes to oppress or enslave any part of our population, nor to destroy the business interests of the country. We hope, on the other hand, to do something to benefit the people. It seems to me that one effort in that direction would be aided if mischievous croaking and dark imaginings should give place to an honest endeavor to inspire confidence and to make universal the cheerful hope for the future."

"IT'S ALL BOSH."

St. Henry, C. A. Award, a President Southern Colored Republican, says of Blaine's Charged Race Intimidation. Special to The Courier-Journal. WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Henry C. A. Award, United States Consul to San Domingo, a colored Republican politician of Louisiana, one of Kellogg's workers, is at the Elbert House. He talks freely of the condition of the colored people in the South. He says he took the stamp and spent money for Blaine in his State, not because he believed in him, but as a matter of expediency. The colored men in the South, he says, do not like Blaine on account of his opposition to the Force Bill, and it was impossible to get up any enthusiasm for him.

"The colored people in the South," he said, "have been deserted by the party since 1876, and they are not depressed by Blaine's defeat. They think, on the contrary, that the election of Cleveland is going to prove a benefit to them. You see, there are two factions in the Democratic party in the South—the ring Democrats, or Bourbon, and the silk-stockings, who are the business men and best citizens in the South. These will be thrown further apart by Cleveland's election. They will form two parties, and they will be the only parties in the South. The colored people will divide, some following the Bourbons and some the silk-stockings. There won't be any race lines. There will be two white parties, each with a colored following, which will greatly improve the condition of the colored people. The ring men expect to be recognized by Cleveland, but judging from Mr. Cleveland's action as Governor of New York, I should say they will be disappointed."

The silk stockings will come to the front, and the best elements in the South will reign."

"Have you read Mr. Blaine's speech?" asked the reporter.

"Yes; that's all bosh. Why didn't he think of all that when he voted against the Force Bill? If he had, probably he would not have been defeated. No, the statement that the colored people in the South were not allowed to vote is not true. There is some intimidation in the country districts in the South, but very little in the cities. Certainly Mr. Blaine has no cause to complain. In the Third Louisiana district he got 5,000 majority, while Kellogg was defeated. The colored people vote as they please. Look at Disbee's district in Florida for instance. Disbee was defeated by Republican votes. We form fusions in the South and make trades. The colored people are not generally coerced. In some of the districts, where the white people are as ignorant as the colored—you have no idea how ignorant they are in some places—there are conflicts, but it grows out of the ignorance on both sides. No sir, the South was not made solid by the Democrats this time. Blaine lost every Southern State because the colored people are Stalwarts and supporters of Conkling, Grant and Arthur. We are nearly all Conkling men, and the slaughter of Folger hurt Blaine as much in the South as it did in New York. The colored people in the South are going to try to have Arthur and Lincoln nominated in 1888. Then some of the Southern States will go Republican. If Cleveland, as President, acts as he did while Governor, he will have the support in 1888 of most of the Northern States, but the Southern Democracy will be against him."

POLITICAL NOTES.
Benjamin H. Bristow is now talked of as the mugwump representative in the cabinet. Vice President-elect Hendricks: "Have I read Blaine's speech? Of course I have. It made me well, I am tired anyway. Good night." "Mr. Blaine bows to the verdict of the American people." "Ish your poy Hans reconciled, Mr. Gottermann?" "You yet be ish reconciled. He hat to be reconciled."

M. M. Estee, who was a candidate for the governorship of California in 1882, writes that he will be a candidate for the United States senatorship from that state. Senator Miller in an interview suggests Governor Perkins or ex-Senator Sargent for the position. It is said that Mr. Edward H. Butler, proprietor of the Buffalo Evening and Sunday News, will be one of the earliest diplomatic appointees that President Cleveland will make. He will be appointed minister to Austria, in place of Mr. John M. Francis. The Austrian mission was formerly filled by a man with whom the Buffalo Courier has some quarrels.

New York has furnished two presidents by accident. Millard Fillmore and Chester A. Arthur, but only one president by election before, Martin Van Buren, elected 48 years ago. No governor has resigned since Van Buren resigned to go into Jackson's first cabinet, 55 years ago. The etiquette and constitutional position of the lieutenant-governor acting as governor are a little rusty.

The Jonathan Chase, who is mentioned for the dead Anthony's seat in the United States senate, was noted as being the only Quaker in the last house. He declined re-election to the new one. He is a quiet honest mill owner, whose barrel recommended him to the consideration of the Rhode Island politician.

The doctrine that the president of the senate has the power to count the electoral votes has been thoroughly exploded by the election of Mr. Hendricks. Is that not so esteemed republican contemporaries? It would be like the wreck of a battle if Ochiltree and Ballard, Calamity Weather and John D. White, Horri and Richelieu Robinson should fall at once. But they, with their fellows, will sport themselves through the coming short session as though fully alive, and then during the long recess they will fade gradually from Washington memories.

Governor Tom Waller, of Connecticut, was the John Maynard of the campaign. He stood gallantly by the helm until the ship of state safely landed her passengers in the Democratic presidential port and lost his own political life in the noble effort. But "the little giant of Connecticut" will be heard from in President Cleveland's administration.

James Russell Lowell, it is announced, will take up his residence at Oxford, England, when relieved of his duties as minister. It is to be hoped that Mr. Lowell will be sent in due time, to represent Great Britain's interests at Washington—by way of giving full play to his English proclivities.

The Supreme court of Iowa has decided that reading the Bible and singing sacred songs in the common schools are not prohibited by the clause in the state constitution forbidding a levy of taxes to support places of worship. While admitting that such exercises in schoolhouses are in a certain sense worship, the court denies that they add anything to the burden of taxation.

THE TARIFF AS AN ISSUE.

The Canary Opposed to a Protective Tariff.

St. Louis Republican.
The only region of the country where the tariff was made a fair issue and debated before the people on its merits was the Eighteenth Congressional District, Illinois, and the sturdy manner in which the author of the Morrison bill maintained himself, and secured a re-election at the hands of his constituency, shows what can be done with that question when handled. The question of Mr. Blaine's personal honesty forced the tariff out of the national canvass so far as the Democrats were concerned. The Independent Republicans insisted on making the personal conduct of the Republican nominee the sole issue, and the Democrats have let them have their way about it. The tariff was not debated in the North and East.

EXCEPT ON ONE SIDE.

The Republican press kept it before the people, but the Democratic press and Democratic speakers said little about it. And yet the author of the Morrison bill is triumphantly re-elected in his district; five of the States, New York, New Jersey, Indiana, West Virginia and Connecticut, where Mr. Blaine and the Republican press presented the argument on the side of protection in its strongest shape, have given majorities for Cleveland; and four other States, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Massachusetts, have re-elected their Republican majorities one-half. It is fair to conclude, therefore, that the country is opposed to the Republican policy of high protective duties, and ripe for tariff reduction. Had Mr. Blaine been a personally unobjectionable candidate, this would have been the chief issue, and Cleveland could and would have been elected on it.

The Buffalo Courier thinks there is hardly a parallel in our history for so rapid a promotion as Cleveland's, and the Courier is right. Four years ago he was a private citizen. From that common post he was promoted to the majority of Buffalo. That he had to resign to become governor, and now he will have to resign the governorship to become President. Cleveland's luck is something phenomenal. He is the first candidate elected to the presidency whose name begins with the letter "C." Clinton, Crawford, Calhoun, Clay and Cass were all beaten. On the other hand, the James' have been lucky, until Blaine came along. Madison, Monroe, Polk, Buchanan and Garfield were all successful, but the Plumed Knight is left.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Miss Francis Willard advocates abstinence from too rich food, as well as from strong drinks.

Rev. Dr. Dumbell is preaching in Chattanooga. He is a man of gentle and his sermons have the true ring.

Of the Anglican bishops six are widowers, five are married for the second time, and one is living with his third wife.

General Beauregard has paid $400,000 for a twenty-year lease of the Onachita coal mines. Late developments show an ample coal field.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor and Miss Catherine Wolfe are co-operating in an effort for the establishment of a college in Florence, where American women can pursue any branch of art.

Mrs. Hayes' portrait, which is again in the green parlor at the White House, is thought by some of her friends to look much better in its new gilt frame than it did in the heavily carved wooden one.

Prince Victor Napoleon is said to be leading the life of a model young man in Paris, avoiding all places of public resort, including the theater, and devoting his time to political studies. He has cut all his father's friends because they did not treat him with sufficient consideration.

M. Paul Bert is striving to secure for women doctors the privilege of walking the hospitals of Paris. He is warmly opposed by some of the most eminent physicians—men who believe that women doctors may become of great benefit to the world, but not as the responsible heads of hospitals for both sexes.

Mr. W. W. Astor is credited with having recently purchased while in Paris a set of ebony and gold furniture that was once in the boudoir of the Empress Eugenie. There are thirty pieces, and the price paid is said to have been $2,500. Mr. Astor is the wife of the American minister at Rome and daughter-in-law of Mrs. John Jacob Astor. She was a Miss Paul of Philadelphia.

Besides his rage for cutting down trees, Gladstone has a mania for wearing baggy trousers and abnormally high collars, which indicate his approach long before his features are discernable. Lord Salisbury wears the shabbiest hats of any man in London. Sir Stafford Northcote always wears loose, ill-fitting coats with long sleeves, inside which he hides his hands. Mr. Childers always appears in light kid gloves, and is supposed to sleep in them.

The miserable young woman in the next house to me, wrote the genial Thomas Carlyle, spends all her young, bright days, not in learning to darn stockings, sew shirts, bake pastry, or any art, mystery or business that will profit herself or others—not even in amusing herself or—kipping on the grass plot with laughter of her mates—but simply and solely in raving from dawn to dark to night and midnight, on a hapless piano, which it is evident she will never in this world render more musical than a pair of barn-clappers! The miserable young female!

The resignation of John A. Logan, Jr., from West Point following closely upon his father's defeat for the vice presidency is widely commented upon. In some quarters it is said he was forced to resign when his father's election was no longer among the probabilities by those in authority, who were desirous of getting him out of the academy. It is a well known fact among army officers that he with his room-mate of the first class was court-martialed for leaving the academy at night and returning with liquor in their possession. They both pleaded guilty and were sentenced to dismissal, but were allowed to resign. So far from being persecuted, the fact that they were allowed to resign is regarded as an act of mercy. Young Logan's resignation was made with the consent of his father. The offense and the court-martial both occurred before anything was known about the election.

Republicans who are finding comfort in the reduction of Cleveland's tidal wave majority in New York of nearly 200,000 in 1882 to a bare plurality of 1,000 in 1884, may require to be reminded that his year's vote exceeded that obtained in 1882 by over 25,000. Two years ago he received 525,347 votes for governor, the democratic electoral ticket, this year, gets 563,073 votes.

Horizontal "Eclipse" Engines for Calhoun County and all the World.

No one has ever bought an "ECLIPSE" without being pleased, and also convinced that it is the best Engine he ever used. This is a hard saying, when it is known that over 1,000 of these wonderful Engines are turned out from the shop without being able to supply the demand, and that in Georgia alone, over 200 have already been sold. A record which no other manufacturer can show elsewhere in the United States. If you wish to save, grind or gin, the Eclipse Steam Engine is exactly what you need. It is simple, durable and safe. They have been manufactured for over thirty years, and thousands are now in use, without a
